NOTICE TO THE FOURTH PART.

So much has been done to the present Part, that to enumerate all the articles revised would almost amount to reprinting the whole of the titles.

The curious enquirer may refer to Galleries, Gibbon, Gilpin, Goethe, Goldsmith, Gould, Gray, Greene, Gregson, Haliburton, Hall, Halle, Hallam, Hamilton, Hearne, Herbert, Herodotus, Heywood, Hoare, Hobbes, Hogarth, Holmshed, Holland's Basilologia, Homer, Pone, Hood, Hook, Hora, Horace, Hume, Hunt, Hunter, and Hutton.

Full half the work is now completed, and the most difficult part of the task overcome; it is therefore hoped that the remainder will proceed with less delay than heretofore. But there is no intention of letting speed take the place of care, and Subscribers are requested, under any circumstances, to await the completion with reasonable patience.

The book does not pay at its present price, the Publisher therefore reserves to himself the right of advancing it to Non-Subscribers immediately after publication of the concluding Part.

NOTICE TO THE FIFTH PART.

ON the publication of the Fourth Part of this work, it seemed to me that I had surmounted the most difficult half of my undertaking, and that the remainder would proceed with increased speed. But I was mistaken, and have found the present Part the most difficult and troublesome of any, and accordingly it has been the longest in³ hand. My predecessor evidently slackened as he advanced, while I feel impelled by the love of my subject into an opposite course; and being by circumstances thrown more than ever on my own resources, my labours increase instead of diminish. Bibliographers will see that the present Part has received an unusual amount of attention; indeed, almost every principal article has been revised or enlarged. It may suffice here to mention a few; IRELAND, IRVING (Washington), JAMES (G. P. R.), JESTS, JOHNSON (Dr. S.), JUNIUS, KLOPSTOCK, KNIGHT (Charles), KOLMANN (my first master), KOTZEBUE, LAMARTINE, LANDOR, LARDNER (Dr.), LAMB (Charles), LONDON (L. E. L.), LEWIS, LINDLEY, LINNÆUS, LODGE, LONDON, LUTHER, LYSONS. Several of these, and especially JESTS, JUNIUS, and LONDON, have been so extensively elaborated, that they may fairly be called Monographs.

Besides these, all the Scottish articles, such as JOHN KNOX, Sir DAVID LINDSAY, &c., have been rendered very complete by the kind assistance of David Laing, Esq., of Edinburgh, than whom no one is better versed in this department of Bibliography. With respect to JUNIUS, I have been fortunate enough to obtain the co-operation of two earnest enquirers into its authorship, and hence have been enabled to render the article more perfect than anything that has yet been presented to the public. One of these gentlemen, Joseph Parkes, Esq., has, by dint of constant attention, succeeded in forming a very remarkable collection, both of books and manuscripts, relating to the subject, and will probably, at some not very distant period, bring his labours to an interesting development.

And now, in respect to JUNIUS, I will reveal a matter which I have kept secret for the last ten years, governed more by some notions of my own as to professional employment, than by any circumstance connected with the particular transaction, which was of an ordinary character, and neither exacted nor implied any secrecy whatever.

In the middle of July, 1850, I was suddenly called upon to value, or as my instructions ran, "to inspect the political papers, manuscripts, and a library of books, at No. 3, St. James's Square;" and some pressure of circumstances required that this should be done within an hour, which I undertook.

On running my eyes round the library, I perceived a strong indication of politics in the time of George III., and, remembering that I was in the supposed precincts of JUNIUS, I searched eagerly, but without success, for the vellum-bound copy. It was quite clear, however, from numerous gaps, that the older part of the library, for it consisted of two very distinct classes of books, had been thoroughly gutted. Having declared the value of it to be very small indeed in proportion to its extent, I was shown into the Manuscript room. Here I found a considerable quantity of carefully preserved papers, all, with the exception of two very large brown paper parcels (which were distinctly placed apart), contained in drawers, and chronologically arranged. I immediately turned to the Junius period, and there found—although nothing signed Junius—a great many letters from the King to the EARL OF HOLDERNESSE,* communicating and discussing political subjects without reserve; a considerable number from Sir Wm. Draper, one of them quailing about Junius, and wondering how he could have obtained information of certain matters, and others enumerating unrequited services, and earnestly begging a place; a vast many, often of a very confidential character, from the Earl of Hillsborough;† several from Benjamin Franklin, long and very interesting; and some, at various dates, from the Duke of Manchester, Duke of Grafton, Lord North, Chatham, the Grenvilles, Lord George Sackville, Chesterfield, and other political characters. In one of the drawers was a rough

* The Earl was on intimate terms with the King, had filled several diplomatic offices, and was twice Secretary of State in the previous reign. In 1771, April 12, he was appointed Governor to the Prince of Wales. He died, at an advanced age, in 1778. In the Grenville Correspondence is printed one of his letters, dated Nov. 20, 1755, in which he officially (being then in the ministry) discharges Mr. Geo. Grenville from his office of Treasurer of the Navy. His wife, Mary, Countess of Holderness, was appointed Lady of the Bedchamber in 1770, and his uncle, Sir Conyers D'Arcy, who died in 1758, had been Comptroller of the Household and Privy Councillor.

† The Earl of Hillsborough was a Member of the Privy Council, Comptroller of the Household, Joint Post-Master General, Secretary of State for the Colonies from 1768 to 1772, First Commissioner of Trade and Plantations from 1763 to 1772, (with short intervals in 1765 and 1767), and always on intimate terms with the King. He died in 1793.

draft, in the well-known upright kind of writing attributed to Junius, but corrected by another hand, of an unpublished letter of LUCIUS to the Duke of Grafton. It was endorsed letter X, and commenced, according to my memorandum, the only one I made, with—" A long retirement from the world of Politics may perhaps have rendered," &c.—and contained the phrases, proselyte, and busy scum, ending with the word children, and simply signed LUCIUS. This, it will be remembered, is one of the best authenticated Pseudonyms of Junius. Having to get through my valuation with extreme speed, I could take no deliberate notes, nor had I time to examine a title of the papers, which extended over nearly half a century. One rather interesting MS. was a Diary beginning at an early date, and ending, I think, with a journey to Paris, in the autumn of 1772, which is about where it might be expected to end to be connected with Junius; but in glancing hastily over it, without any aid but my memory, I could trace nothing in the shape of evidence. Feeling that I was in the path of discovery, I entreated to see the contents of the two large parcels set aside, which—full a quarter of a hundred weight each—were sealed at every aperture, and prominently marked on all sides 'most secret,' but this was declined until actual right of possession had been obtained. To secure these important papers, I offered five hundred pounds for those I had so hastily inspected, and as much more, speculatively, for the two parcels of 'most secret' ones; under a strong impression that the Junius correspondence was there; and I was promised them, in case they should be for sale. On subsequent enquiry, in October of the same year, I learnt that the papers had been claimed by the Duke of Leeds; and at a later period I was informed that they had been deposited in the strong room of a banker, with the possibility that they might come out at the end of six years; but not having since heard any more about them, I presume they are now immured among the family archives.

The house which contained these treasures was, in 1836, the residence of the late Duke of Leeds, whose ancestor, Francis Godolphin, fifth Duke of Leeds, married,* in 1773, the only child of Robert D'Arey, fourth and last EARL of HOLDERNESSE, and succeeded, in 1778, to his Barony and estates. The only daughter of his son George William Frederick, sixth Duke of Leeds, was married, in 1826, to Sackville Lane Fox, Esq., M.P., who resided from 1836 until 1853 in the house in question, and appears to

* Mr. Croker, in Boswell's Life of Johnson, (vol. vii. page 362, Bohn's edition,) says that the doggerel lines composed on the marriage of the Duke of Leeds by one of his inferior domestics, and so familiarly quoted by Dr. Johnson, were on the occasion of the marriage of this fifth Duke of Leeds with his second wife, Catherine Anguish. But this is clearly a mistake, as the marriage did not take place till 1788, four years after Johnson's death. In a copy of Boswell's Johnson, with unpublished MS. notes by Mrs. Piozzi and her daughter Lady Keith, which I happen to possess, there is this note. "I fancy I was the lady, whose uncle, Sir Thomas Salisbury, used to repeat it for ever. The song was made by the porter of that Duke of Leeds (viz. the 4th) who married Lady Mary Godolphin."

The following are the lines, as quoted by Dr. Johnson, but Mrs. Piozzi gave another version of the second verse, and added a third:—

"When the Duke of Leeds shall married be
To a fine young lady of high quality,
How happy will that gentlewoman be
In his Grace of Leeds' good company!

She shall have all that's fine and fair,
And the best of silk and satin shall wear;
And ride in a coach to take the air,
And have a house in St. James's Square."

have had possession of the family manuscripts and so much of the Library as had not been removed.

These are the simple facts. If they do not reveal who was the actual writer of the Letters of Junius, they at least point out the head quarters of information, and account for some of the hitherto irreconcilable difficulties in adjudicating on the claims of Sir Philip Francis, who I believe to have been largely concerned, though not the sole and unassisted writer. Mr. Woodfall may himself have been a considerable go-between in the matter, just as I was between the 'Englishman' and the 'Times,' without caring to pry into a secret which, by disclosure, would frustrate his own objects. I have no leisure to follow out all the ramifications to which this discovery may lead, and must leave the interesting task to others. The enquirer will be aided in his researches by referring to my edition of Junius, and especially Mr. Wade's Essay, prefixed to the second volume.

NOTICE TO THE SIXTH PART.

IN several former preliminary notices I have called attention to some of the more important of my additions, and think it as well to continue the practice. I have therefore to state that the present part is increased full one-fourth on the original work, and every page materially enlarged, as reference to the following names, some of which are entirely new, will testify :—

M'CULLOCH, J. B. MACGREGOR, John. MACKINTOSH, Sir James MALCOLM, Sir John. MANTELL, Dr. MANUALE AD USUM SARUM. MARKHAM, GEORGE. MARRYAT, Capt. MARTIN, R. M. MARY STUART. MASSACHUSETTS. MATHER, Cotton and Increase. MENDHAM, Jos. MILMAN, Rev. H. MILTON, John. MISSALE. MITFORD, Miss. MONTGOMERY, James and Robert. MOORE, Thor. MORE, Hannah. MORGAN, Lady. MORMON, Book of. MURRAY, Lindley. NAPOLLON. NEWMAN, J. H. NEWTON, Sir Isaac. NICHOLS, John. NICHOLSON, Peter. NICOLAS, Sir Harris. NORTON, Hon. Mrs. NOWELL, Alexander. OLIVER, Rev. George. ORDNANCE SURVEYS. ORMEROD, George. OSSIAN. OTTLEY, W. G. OVID. OWEN, Rich.

It was not my original intention, as stated in a Notice to the Second Part, to introduce any names which had not already been given by Lowndes, taking it for granted that he would be complete to the date of publication, 1831, and that I should merely have to continue his lists; and to this rule I at first adhered, but afterwards found so many important omissions in the department of contemporary Literature, that it became necessary to abandon the prescribed limit. Accordingly, the present part will be found to contain many such additional names as Capt. Marryat, Dean Milman, John Henry Newman, Sir Harris Nicolas, and Professor Owen; all of whom had acquired literary reputation before the period in question, and were better entitled to mention than some who have been included.

The next part is in progress, and will, I hope, be published in the ensuing spring.

GLANVIL, or GLANVILLA, Bartholomew. De Proprietatibus Rerum. Large folio. (without place or date, but Cologne, circa 1470-1).

FIRST EDITION. Gothic type, 238 leaves. [Bibl. Spenc.] double columns, each 55 lines. [Brunet. 247 leaves.] Bibliographers have hitherto been at great variance with regard to assigning this volume to any positive paternity. But its birth-place may now be considered as COLOGNE, and its parent our OWN FIRST PRINTER, W. CAXTON. The latest writer on the matter, Mr. S. Leigh Sotheby, in his 'Principia Typographica,' folio, 1858, vol. 3, pp. 89, 102-4, gives fac-similes of the types, by which it is shewn that the fifty-five line edition is printed with type of the same character as that used at Cologne by Gutz de Sletstat in 1474; identifying this Latin edition as that referred to by Wynkyn de Worde, in the English translation by Trevisa.

'And also of your charyte call to remembrance'

GRECO, Gioachimo. The royal Game of Chess. Lond. 1750. 12mo.

Goldsmid, 192, 6s. This English translation of Greco has an engraved frontispiece, copied from a very fine print in small folio, which was engraved at Paris, by Lepicé, in 1746, from a picture of the same size by C. D. Mor. It represents an old man and a young one sitting and playing at chess; a man standing with a glass of wine in his hand, overlooking them; a guitar hangs against the wainscot; the dresses and furniture are such as were used in the sixteenth century.

On the Game of Chess, translated and illustrated with Annotations, by W. Lewis. Lond. 1819, 8vo. 7s. This is by far the best edition of the Calabrois which has hitherto appeared. The Annotations are useful, and the whole work is got up with the accuracy and elegance which distinguish all the publications of the translator.

Copies of this edition sometimes occur with the wood-cuts coloured. One of this description is in the British Museum.

HAKLUYT, Richard. The principal Navigations, Voyages, and Discoveries made by the English Nation. Lond. G. Bishop and R. Newberie. 1589. folio.

This volume, which has the advantage of an index, differs materially from the first volume of the edition 1598—1600. It consists usually of 825 pages, besides dedication to Sir F. Walsingham, Knt., to the reader, some commendatory verses, a table and index. In the preface Hakluyt states that he had intended to insert an account of Sir F. Drake's voyage, but that he had been 'seriously delt withall, not to anticipate, or prevent another man's paines,' and had 'yielded' unto his friends. It appears, however, that he printed the account privately. Jadis, 339, (in 1828), with a map referred to in the preface, not then known to exist in any other copy, and the account of Sir F. Drake's Voyage, 6 leaves inserted between pp. 643 and 644, 26l. 6s. Lowcombe, 9l., with the 6 leaves, and the rare map. Heber, pt. vi. 4l. 19s. Heber, pt. i. with the 6 suppressed leaves, but no map, 3l. 6s.

Pp. 619, also epistle dedicatorie, preface to the reader, complimentary verses and a catalogue of the voyages, &c. in the first volume, 12 leaves. To discover the original of 'The Voyage to Cadiz,' from the reprint, p. 607, should have eight paragraphs—in the reprint there are only seven. The original ends at p. 619 with a wood-cut, and a blank page after—the reprint ends with p. 620, without the wood-cut. Vol. II, dated 1599, Part I. pp. 1—312; the second part, pp. 1—204; also title, epistle dedicatorie, a catalogue of the English voyage, &c. 8 leaves. Vol. III, dated 1600, 1p. 1 563, also title, epistle dedicatorie, a general catalogue divided, 8 leaves. In some copies of this third volume is a map of the world, 'A true hydrographical description of so much of the world as hath bene hitherto discovered and is comme to our knowledge.' This map is the same as that of the edition of 1598, but with the addition of Sir F. Drake's voyage traced upon it. [Molyneux engraved a map, which was too late for the first edition, and appears in the second, but he did not place his name on it, and Hakluyt substituted a map for the first edition till Molyneux's map should be finished, consequently the two maps for the first and second edition are not the same. See the Grenville Catalogue for further details. The map in the second edition is described in full by Hallam in Vol. 2 of his Literature of Europe.] It should be noted in respect to copies having the original Voyage to Cadiz that it is mentioned on the title dated 1598, while on the title dated 1599 mention of it is omitted although still named in the list of contents.

An excellent analysis of the contents of Hakluyt will be found in Oldys' British Librarian; and in Clarke's Progress of Maritime Discovery is reprinted Locke's Explanatory Catalogue of Voyages, which gives a full account of the labours of Hakluyt and Purchas. See also Prefaces to the Reprints issued by the Hakluyt Society.

HALLÉ, Edward. CHRONICLE.

To arrive at an exact bibliographical knowledge of the variations in this volume requires considerable patience in the collation; most of the copies known being made up of the several editions (Mr. Grenville's for instance. See Collations in Bibliotheca Grenvilliana, i. p. 297).

It should be premised that the several editions or issues are similarly printed in Black Letter; that Hallé did not live to bring his labours to a conclusion, and that R. Grafton issued the work after Hallé's death, stating, in his Address to the edition of 1548—"that Hallé dying, and being in his latter time not so painful and studious as he ought to have been," he undertook the completion of it,"—although he (Grafton) published a Chronicle, which goes expressly under his own name. Bp Tanner, in his Bibliotheca Britannica, p. 372, cites an edition printed by Bethelot, dated 1542, but no copy with that date, or with a dedication to King Henry VIII., is known, it is therefore regarded as supposititious.

The Title of the first issue of 1548 is as follows:—THE UNION of the two noble and illustre families of Lancastre and Yorke beyng long in continual disencion for the crowne of this noble realme, with all the actes done in bothe of the tymes of the Princes, bothe of the one inage and of the other, begynnynge at the tyme of Kyng Henry the fourth the first anethor of this deuision, and so successively proceeding to the reigne of the high and prudent prince kyng Henry the eight, the indubitable flower and very heire of both the sayde inages. 1548. The preceding in the centre of a leaf, surrounded with ornaments of an architectural character, (name as used by Grafton for titles to his edition of Statutes temp. Edward VI.); the upper compartment containing the King sitting in Parliament, the lower being the Printer's rebuis of a Tun, with a Graft in it. This edition is without marginal reference letters, and in the address 'to the Reader,' Grafton says, (in Black Letter type), 'I must crave of the most gentle reader charitably to judge of me, the impryncer of this worke, if ought herein shall be sene, &c. And so sone as my lesure wil serue; for this ease and ready fyndynge of any thyng herein contayned, I purpose to gather an exact table of the whole worke.' Collation.—Title, in black letter, with the exception of the six first letters, which are Roman capitals. Dedication to Edward the VI., 8 pages; on the fourth, 'Richard Grafton to the Reader.' (The two head lines of which are in Roman letters, the remainder in B. L.) 'The names of the authors and Englyshe writers,' one page. 'Names of the Histories contayned in this volume,' one page; printed in very large type, occupying the whole page, ending FINIS. An Introduction to Henry IV., commencing with a large H (which reads as a W), the centre enclosing the royal arms, repeated on the reverse of folio ix. The work divided into parts—the first to the end of the reign of Henry VI., ends on fol. CLXXXVIII. Reign of Edward IV., ends on fol. CCL marked CCLX. Reign of Edward V., fol. xxiv. Reign of Richard III., fol. ixx. Reign of Henry VII., fol. lxi. Reign of Henry VIII., fol. cclxiii.; on the Reverse of the last, King Henry the VIII. sitting in Parliament, probably designed by Hans Holbein. The volume closes with a separate leaf, (possibly from the second issue) containing Grafton's device and imprint in officium. Typis Impressum cum Privilegio, &c. Anno m.d.xl.viii. Sir Mauk Sykes, et. 6s. Gough, 8l. 8s. Roxburghe, 12l. 12s. Beckford, in 1817, 12l. 12s. Heathcote 23l. 2s. But it is more than probable that several of these were not entirely of the first issue.

Second issue, in new year, Title as follows. THE UNYON, &c. down to 1548, [in Gothic Black letter, and differing from the former edition slightly in the reading] in centre of the leaf, surrounded by a curious Genealogical Tree (designed by John Hens, and engraved on wood by Tyrrel), of the Rival Families, with their effigies suspended from the branches. The first two or three sheets of this issue have side references; the body of the book and parts all ending as before. Collation.—Title, [within the Genealogical Tree], which has the addition of 'Whereunto is added to every King a several table.' Grafton's address 'to the Reader,' (in black letter), commences 'Like as before, so yet once again I desire the righte loving reader, &c.,' and ends, 'I have now performed my promes, and have,' &c., devoyed for the several histories of the same several Tables, namelye for the iiii. fyrst histories, whych is Kyng Henry the III., Henry the V., Henry the VI., and Edward the III., one table, and for every of the other Histories a several table. The order whereof is this, you shal fynde marked in the ayde of every lufe these nūbres, x. xx. xxx. xl., &c. In this issue 'the names of the Histories' is the same, but in small Black letter type, of a foreign appearance, and only occupying half the page. The Introduction to Henry IV. commences with an ornamental letter V, which is repeated on the back of fol. ix. The Reign of Henry VI. ends on CLXXXVIII. as before. Grafton printed sets of the tables at several times, which are found added in many copies—those for the editions dated 1548, are of a larger type than those for 1550, which are in small black, and have a foreign appearance. No index for the four first histories in one general alphabet has been seen. Heber, pt. iv. 54. 18s.; another, finer, 7l.

Third issue, 1548-50. Title. THE VNI. &c. (composed of the Genealogical Tree), 'whereunto is added to every King a severall table.' The body of the book same as before, with printer's colophon and mark, but at the end of the Index to the Reign of Henry the VIIIth is found 'Imprinted at London by Richard Grafton, Printer to the Kynges Majesty, 1550, cum privilegio, &c.' In this edition marginal numbers as side references are printed throughout, and each reign has separate paginations, and when the proper Indexes are attached the collation is as follows:—Henry IV., 32 folios; Table, 2 leaves. Henry V., 50 folios; Table, 2 leaves. Henry VI., 102 folios; Table, 3 leaves. Edward IV., 61 folios; Table, 4 leaves. Edward V., 21 folios; Table 1 leaf. Richard III., 35 folios; Table, 2 leaves. Henry VII., 61 folios; Table, 3 leaves. Henry VIII., (ending the xxxviii. of his reign), 263 folios; Table, 13 leaves. That the History of the Reigne of Henry VIII. served for all these three issues, is discovered by sheet G G g (folios 137 142) being wrongly printed. (G G g ii. having one line and one word, G G g iii. one line, 14 verses of G G g iv. five lines at bottom, G G g v. five words at top printed twice over.)

Fourth issue, 1550 BLACK LETTER. This edition was prohibited by Act of Parliament in 1555. It has marginal references through out. Collation.—Title. THE VNI. &c., [within the Genealogical Tree as in previous edition], 'whereunto is added to every King a severall Table.' 'Dedication to Edward VI.,' 3 pages. 'Richard Grafton to the reader,' one page, commencing 'Like as before,' &c.; 'have devysed for the History of every King a separate table.' 'The names of the authors, as well Latin as other Englyshe writers,' one page. 'Names of the Historicks,' printed in large Black letter type, occupying the whole page, but not having the word FINIS at the bottom, as in the first edition of 1548. The Table to the Reigne of Henry VIII. commences on the reverse of the last leaf of the Chronicle. Other parts of the volume same as third issue.

HARLEIAN LIBRARY.—Catalogus Bibliothecæ Harleianæ, in Locis communes distributus, cum Indice Auctorum. Lond. T. Osborne. 1743—5. 8vo. 5 vols.

This catalogue was made by Dr. Johnson, with the assistance of Oldys and Maittaire. The Latin dedication to Lord Carteret was written by Maittaire, who also furnished many hints for the classification. According to Dr. Drake, Vols. I. and II. were composed by the industrious antiquary William Oldys, Dr Johnson completing the undertaking. The preface was written by Dr. Johnson. Vol. V. is of little value, being an enumeration of Osborne's old stock. Osborne purchased the Harleian library for 13,000*l.*, the mere binding of which, as Oldys declares, cost more money. Towneley, pt. ii. 95, 5 vols. 1l. 14. Bp. of Ely, 112, 5 vols. 1l. 6s. Willett, 1088, 5 vols. 2l. 4s.

HARRIOT, Thomas. Artis analyticiæ Praxis ad Aequationes Algebraicas nova expedita et generali Methodo resolutas. Lond. 1631. folio.

A work which, according to Dr. Hutton, shows, in all its parts, marks of great genius and originality.

A small Dissertation [by Baron Zach] on these astronomical papers was printed in Oxford about 1714, but Professor Rigaud had never been able to meet with it.

An account of Harriot will be found in Wood's Athen Oxon.; and of his Manuscripts, in the Appendix to Bradley's Miscellaneous Works, by Rigaud. Oxon. 1833.

— Benjamin? Last of Covent Garden Ladies, or New Atlantis; with the Man of Pleasure's Calendar. Lond. 1760 to 1793. 12mo. frontispieces.

The first volume of this notorious annual publication appeared in 1760, and was continued annually until 1793, when it was very properly suppressed. How it was allowed to be published so long, will ever be a matter of surprise, and shows the depraved state of public morals during the period. That its appearance suited the taste of the times, a writer of that day observes: 'that the annual productions of Mr. Heris have long met the public approbation, and his impartiality has long been the admiration of his numberless readers. The accuracy of his orthography, the flowing elegance of his periods, the aptitude of his remarks, and the astonishing variety of his descriptions, must place him as far beyond the power of malice as of imitation, and transmit his name and writings with unrivalled honour to posterity.'

'Who shall ever read the heroic, the sublime, the elegant Harris, but with a lively recollection of its beauties!!' A complete set of this work is of extreme rarity.

In this reprint the Castrations are inserted, many chronological errata are corrected, and a copious index added. It formed the first issue of the Quarto Series of Chronicles, published by the London trade, mostly from the old folios, under the editorial superintendence of Sir Henry Ellis, E. V. Utterston, R. H. Evans, F. Douce.

Dibdin, and others. As far as the trade speculation was concerned, the series was completed in 15 vols. of Chronicles, and 2 of Fuller's Worthies, making in all 17 vols., which often occur together, at from 25l. to 40l., according to the binding. To these nearly as many more volumes are sometimes added, to make a long series of Chronicles. The following is a list, the full titles and other particulars will be found in their respective places. The original trade series is distinguished by an asterisk.

The Froissart and Monstrelet, by Col. Jones, sometimes occur with illuminated plates, and in this state are scarce and expensive, but are necessary in a first class set. The publisher has been in the habit of making up long sets, including the illuminated plates, generally bound in 28 volumes, in olive morocco, gilt edges, for 105l. or more; or in Russia, with plain plates, for about 70 guineas. Fewer volumes, less expensive bindings, and especially the absence of Col. Jones's Froissart, would materially reduce the price of sets.

The Baziliologia appears to be complete in the 32 portraits above enumerated, but the volume which contains them usually has many additional ones by the same engravers, Elstracke, Simon or Wm. Pass, Delaram, Vaughan, &c. generally published by Compton Holland, Sudbury, or Humble. How numerous these sometimes are, may be seen under ELIZABETH, at page 735. We will here enumerate a few of the rarer and most valuable of what are recognized as forming the additions, with the prices at which they have been sold, without giving the exact titles, for which we have no space.

'To those who have studied the Fiscal politique the use which I have made of this admirable work in many parts of my own, will be sufficiently apparent. Indeed to write a book in Mexico without referring to Baron Humboldt at almost every page is not only impossible. He first applied the lights of science to the New World. He discovered and explained the peculiarities of climate and structure by which Mexico is so much favored and traced with the hand of a master the outline of that vast picture which present and future travellers can only assist in filling up. — *W. The earliest known edition of part i. is that printed for Elizabeth Barbie. Lond. 1608. Halliwell, May 1857, 7l. In all probability this work had been read by Shakespeare in some earlier edition not now known. As at page iv. is the prototype of a passage in Lear, and there are numerous similarities of a like description. Mr. Heber possessed the second part, Lond. printed by C. Barne, 1597, called in his sale catalogue, pt. vi. first edition, 1l. 8s. (both parts were assigned to Barbie in 1698 by John Danter, according to the Stationers' Books, see Ames, page 1366). Gordonstoun, 1312, without date (? two parts), 1l. 18s. An edition, Lond. printed for T. Snodham, without date, has been long considered to be the first.—Lond. 1670, both parts 4to.—Lond. 1675 (? 2 parts). Bright.

In the edition of part i. dated 1681, R. Johnson states the conclusion to have been 'finished at my house, May 22, 1616,' meaning thereby, it is presumed, that he finished modernising the ancient spelling, and that he was not the author of the work.

'The later editions we may be certain have accumulated errors of the press; and the booksellers, whose chief object is profit, have rendered them much less valuable than this early one, by abridgment or suppression, in order to bring the work into a smaller compass. Thus, to the examples they have in late editions subjoined Bible, instead of the particular part of the Sacred Writings, as Isaiah, Proverbs, &c. and Shakspeare to the examples taken from his works, instead of the particular play. One striking proof of the corruptions which have been introduced, may be found under ache.'—MS. Note by Edmund Malone.

JORDAN, Thomas. Poetical and other Works.

Jordan was the professed pageant-writer and poet-laureat for the city, and seems to have possessed a greater share of poetical merit than usually fell to the lot of his profession. He lived much upon Dedications; in many of his volumes the dedication is left open, so that by a distinct operation afterwards, by a small press which probably he worked himself, he could put in any name he pleased as his patrons from whom he hoped for, and probably obtained, money. See Baker's Biog. Dram. by Reed and Jones, Brydges' Censura Literaria, and Re-tituta.

A presentation copy from Mr Woodfall to Sir Philip Francis, of this second edition, was sold at his sale in 1838, for 2l. 2s., but it had no MS. notes or corrections.

Third edition enlarged, with further evidence as to the authorship, and an analysis by the late Sir Harris Nicolas, edited by John Wade; with a complete index. Lond. Bohn, 1850, 2 vols. post 8vo. 7s. Besides the notes of Woodfall's edition, this contains a Selection of the Notes of Robert Heron, as published in the edition of 1804. To vol. 2 is prefixed a Supplementary Essay of 80 pages, entitled 'The History and Discovery of Junius,' in which the editor assumes Sir Philip Francis to be the author, and disproves the pretensions of all other claimants.

The Letters of Junius first appeared in the Public Advertiser, (published by H. S. Woodfall), and have attained great celebrity, not only on account of the ability they display, but from the mystery which hangs over the author. It is a work which must always preserve its high place among the classics of England: the author was a first-rate master of the art of rhetorical invective. Lord Sackville, on the papers of Junius being imputed to him, replied, "I should be proud to be capable of writing what Junius has done; but there are many passages in his letters I should be very sorry to have written."

THE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT LETTERS, so far as they have been preserved in the Woodfall family, were recently offered to the nation by Mr. H. D. Woodfall for 500l.

THE LETTERS OF JUNIUS. Lond. 1770, 12mo, with a vignette Cap of Liberty on title page. This is Wheble's first edition, but does not bear his name. It was this which served Junius as copy for his edition of 1772. It concludes p. 232, with the Letter to Lord North dated 22nd August, 1770. It was subsequently re-issued with Wheble's name pp. 247, having in addition the Letter to Mansfield of 14th Nov. 1770. A second volume appears to have been issued in 3 parts, the first dated 1770, the last 1771.—A buma fide new edition in 2 vols. followed, with an engraved title page, 'Printed for J. Wheble, 1771' The title-page of vol. 2 is struck off from the same copperplate, and 'vol. 2' is introduced in type; and the MDCCLXXI is turned into MDCCLXXII by the addition of 1, also in type. This edition, or at least the second volume of it, could not have been published until after Jan. 21, 1772, as it contains the letter to Lord Camden. — Another edition was published by 'Wheble, 1772,' 12mo, 2 vols. This also has an engraved title page but not the same; the date MDCCLXXII is engraved on it, but, as before, one title is made to do double duty by the addition of 1 in type for the second volume. There are also two editions of vol. 2 bearing the imprint 'Wheble, 1771,' on a typographical title-page, although both must have been printed after Woodfall's of 1772, as the one concludes with the note about Horne, and the other has the Philo-Junius Letters, and a Letter to Lord Apsley signed Junius, and dated Feb. 1775.—Another edition in 2 vols. 12mo. Lond. Wheble, 1775. This also concludes with the Letter to Lord Apsley. The probability is, that after Woodfall's authorised edition of 1772, Wheble found it necessary to help the sale of his superseded stock by adding the new matter to the copies on hand.

The genuine Letters of Junius, to which are prefixed Anecdotes of the Author. Lond. no printer or publisher, 1771, 8vo 866 pages, ending with Letter, Oct. 6th. This edition, though without name of printer or publisher, bears on its title the word 'Plecadilly,' whence it is called the Plecadilly edition. (It would appear from internal evidence, that there was an earlier edition dated 1770, ending on page 255; which we have not seen) The writer of the prefatory anecdotes assumes that Burke was the author, and without once mentioning his name, calls him: Junius throughout. The Anecdotes are omitted in all the later editions.

The Letters of Junius. Lond. Henry Sampson Woodfall, Paternoster Row, 1772, 12mo. 2 vols. price 10s. 6d. THE FIRST AUTHORIZED EDITION, printed under the author's inspection; preceded by a dedication of 10 pages, a preface of 22, and illustrated with notes. It was published March 3rd, 1772, without Table of Contents or Index; but was re-issued about March 1773, with both Table of Contents and index. Many years afterwards, the remaining copies of either this edition, or a verbatim reprint, appear to have been sold off, and the date erased by the purchaser from the title-page, which accounts for a supposed edition without date.

The Letters of the celebrated Junius, a more complete edition than any yet published Lond. 1783, 12mo 2 vols. According to the Advertisement prefixed, there are 14 more letters in this than in the author's edition, (the same as in Ewing's just mentioned.)

A copy of this edition, with MS. notes and corrections, by Sir Philip Francis, sold at the sale of Sir Philip Francis's library, at Evans's, in 1838, for 12*l.* 12*s.*, and was bought in the name of Armstrong, for Mr. H. R. Francis, a member of the family.

The Letters of Junius. Lond. Vernor, Hood, and Co., and others, 1800, 18mo. 2 vols. 10 portraits. This edition has a Bee-hive vignette on the title page. It is not, however, the edition referred to by Lord Albemarle (in Memoirs of the Marquis of Rockingham, vol. ii. p. 188), nor is that edition yet identified.

KINGSBOROUGH, Edward, Viscount (son of the Earl of Kingston.) Antiquities of Mexico, comprising Fac-similes of ancient Mexican Paintings and Hieroglyphics, preserved in the Royal Libraries of Paris, Berlin, Dresden, Vienna; the Vatican and the Borgian Museum, at Rome; the Institute at Bologna; the Bodleian Library at Oxford; and various others; the greater part inedited. Also the Monuments of New Spain, by M. Dupaix, illustrated by upwards of one thousand elaborate and highly-interesting plates, accurately copied from the originals, by A. Aglio. 9 vols. imp. fol. hf. bd. morocco, privately printed, but originally sold at 140*l.*, now reduced to 35*l.*; or, with the plates coloured, originally sold at the rate of 200 guineas unbound, now hf. bd. morocco, gilt edges, 63*l.* Lond. Bohn, 1831-48. 35*l.*

The two additional volumes were printed long after the first seven vols. forming the 8th and 9th of the whole work, and are now sold separately, to complete sets, in red boards, as formerly done up, at 12*l.* 12s.

'This work in its magnificence recalls to mind the patronage of crowned heads, and the splendour of the princely patrons of literature. It has no taint about it of author or bookseller - it comes in the astounding form of seven (nine) volumes, imperial folio' and if, as we have heard, no copy be sold that is uncoloured, the cost of producing the whole will exceed fifty or perhaps sixty thousand pounds! This point, however, is not determined, and the publishing price will be, we believe, plain, 120*l.* coloured, 175*l.* (that is for the seven volumes). There are two copies printed on vellum, which may be estimated at three thousand guineas! The title-page well explains the subject; but as it does not often fall to our lot to report upon such works, and as but few of our readers are likely to see it, we shall be a little more particular.'—Athenæum.

Egestorff, after announcing upon the English prose translation, relates his own offer of this version, when in London to various booksellers and was told by one and all we are satisfied with what we have got and proceed to say, Perhaps they may be doubly satisfied with what they have got for it may be justly said that in their translation, the Messiah has been crucified a second time. In justice to the translator, this version though containing some Germanisms is in every way a Miltonic blank verse, and a very readable book

The Knickerbocker was established in 1832 by C. J. Hoffman, the novelist; his successor was Timothy Flint; and the present editor is Louis Gaylord Clarke. The Knickerbocker has been one of the most brilliant periodicals of the United States. It counted among its contributors Washington Irving, Paulding, Wm. Ware, Bryant, and Longfellow. Almost all the writers who during the last twenty years have achieved a reputation in the United States, commenced their literary career either as critics or novel writers in its columns.

LEMON, Rev. George William. English Etymology, or a derivative Dictionary of the English Language. Lond. 1783, 4to. 10s. 6d.

Roxburghe, 2197, 9s. Dent, pt. ii. 590, 11. 2s. 6d. Horne Tooke, 104, 11. 12s. In this work the author pretends to find a derivation for every word in Saxon, German, Dutch, Latin, Greek, Hebrew. See Pig's Petty-Toes.

Mr. Lemon was Dr. Parr's immediate predecessor in the mastership of Norwich School. He was not a very skilful teacher, and knew little of the world; but he was a worthy man, had great industry and much learning. He was the intimate friend of Spelman, and was assisted by Spelman's papers.—Bibliotheca Parriana. Lemon's Etymological Dictionary was published by subscription, chiefly among his Norwich friends. It has been said, that on the refusal of a Mr. Beasley, a very ponderous gentleman, to subscribe to his book, and owing him besides some grudge, he explained the word 'Obesity' as an exclamation commonly uttered at the sight of Old Beasley; and that the leaf was almost immediately suppressed by legal appliances. The writer, however, has never been able to meet with a copy containing this leaf, and begins to doubt its existence.

Colloquia Mensalia or Divine Discourses at his Table, &c Collected first together by Dr Antonius Lauterbach and afterwards disposed into certain common places by John Aurifaber Dr in Divinity Translated out the High German into the English Tongue by Captain Henne Bell Lond 1652 folio with portrait of Luther by W Trevelthen 22 12s 6d The history of this book is almost as extraordinary as its contents. It seems, from the preface of the translator, that nearly all the copies of the original work were destroyed by order of Pope Gregory XIII, and that a gentleman, in 1653 on digging a foundation turned up a book carefully wrapped in coarse linen cloth, and covered with bees wax, which proved to be the 'Divine Discourses of Luther, as buried by his grandfather, in order to evade the edict of the Pope. MACAULAY, Thomas Babington [Right Honble in 1846, and Lord in 1857]

Under the impression that Lord Macaulay had published nothing previous to 1834, it was not intended to introduce a list of his writings into the present alphabet, but it appears that he wrote and published a political treatise as early as 1826 and although it does not bear his name its authenticity is undoubted. Having been favoured with perhaps the only copy preserved of this curious broadside we gladly insert it and make it the leader to his later and more important productions which could not else be brought within our scope. It is given entire on a subsequent page.

noble, that never came either in mellay of battle or guildard of ladies
To him came Boubedji and said,
'Bravo Sir the Blue Magician is sore bested and if thou wilt do battle for him, thou shalt possess the Princess and her dowry. And that unknighly knight put on his armour. It was blue, and his d-vice was a cock azure, with a tail argent, and round it was written—

'E dare ne stutte, ne croue, ne fugite,
For whu? Because my tail is white'

And when the Blue Knight came to the lists, he saluted with the Pedes, and gave luges to the herd, nor could he find out the cock. He nor gave a y sign of gold chain and stout heart, as becoms gentle blood, but he lay on his horse like a miller's sack, and he lookd like a thief that hath touched the last round of the ladder and the last stave of the psalm. And he bade Boubedji have a look in his eyes, and he held his spear as if he wist not how to couch it.

But not so he of the purple armour, for he rode at the recalcant knight right furiously, and smote him down and trampled upon him.

And the crowd shouted and clapped their hands, and said, 'Glory to the Purple Knight! Accused be the Blue Magician and his slaves!' And the ladies threw on the Purple Knight rickets and lilies.
But him of the blue they took, and stripped off his armour and scourged him, and rolled him in tar, and tuck over him white cock's feathers, and set him on an ass with a rick to the tail, and bade him to turn whence he came lest worse should befall him. Now of this cavalier a history saith no more.

Then all the people took the Blue Magician, and broke his wind, and burned him at a great stake,
for a wicked and fendish creature.
And his ears they sprinkled with tar. And the Princess was set free, and she espoused the Purple Knight. At all that were there rejoiced, chiefly the Knights Tem-plus of the Holy Temple (10), and that good and gentle Knight of the Luth (11), which had before loved and served the Princess and which did now will gladly conte to deliver her to the Purple Knight.

Albany December 24 1833

DEAR SIR I beg you to accept my warm thanks for your present of Addison's which is a valuable addition to my library. All that I have seen of it leads me to believe that you have rendered a real service to literature. Yet I am sorry to find that you have omitted some papers which were undoubtedly Addison's though he did not own them. I mean particularly the Spectator, No 625 the richest and broadest specimen of his humour. It is a little indelicate, and that no doubt, was his reason for not claiming it. He also abstained from claiming No 624 though most undoubtedly his and one of his best, because he could not have avowed it without avowing also No 623. If any person can doubt that both these papers are Addison's either that person or I must be an exceedingly bad critic. With repeated thanks for your kindness,

I beg you to believe me dear Sir,

H. C. F. N. I. q

MACKNIGHT, James, D D A Harmony of the four Gospels, in which the natural Order of each is preserved Lond 1756, 4to

Dr Macknight closely adheres to the principle of Origenes, but his paraphrase and commentary contain so much useful information that his Harmony has long been regarded as a standard book among divines. The preliminary dissertations are highly valuable. Bishop Mudge says, that whoever makes use of this Harmony should compare with it Dr N Laidner's observations, which were first published in 1764, (reprinted in Dr Kippis's edition of his works, vol 11) - Second edition, corrected and greatly enlarged, Lond.

 Collectio is a copy printed at Rouen in 4to wanting the colophon presented by Humphrey de la Pole in 1498. The Rev Thomas Baker thought that the edition printed in 1554 being in the time of Cardinal Pole and best to the Council of Trent picked up was probably the last of its kind in England

Mr Maskell says that all three editions by Kingston and Sutton 1554 are so alike even to paper and catchwords that only a careful comparison can detect the difference. They are 1. Londini Kingston et — Captain Maturst, who died in 1818, was one of the most promising of our romance writers, and especially excelled in Naval Stories. Among his later works worthy of especial notice is his Masterman Ready, which has all the charm of Robinson Crusoe, and will ever be a prime favourite with young people. It was the first of a series of books especially designed for the rising generation, and with which he is known to have taken more pains than with any of his previous writings. He was editor of the METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE (which had been commenced by the poet Campbell) from 1832 to 1836 inclusive, during which period some of his most popular Novels were first published in its pages.

MARTIN-MARPRELARI Tracts 'I here was not only one Martin Marprelate but other venomous books daily printed and dispersed, books that were so absurd and scurrilous that the graver divines disdained them as answers. And yet these were grown unto high esteem with the common people till Tom Nash appeared against them all, who was a man of a sharp wit and the master of a scathing satyricall merry pen which he employed to discover the absurdities of those malicious senseless pamphlets and answers as senseless as they, Nash his answers being like his Book, which bore these or like Titles, 'An Almond for a Patriot' 'A fig for my God son, Come crack me this Nut and the like so that his merry list made some sport and such a discovery of their absurdities as (which is strange) he put a greater stop to their malicious pamphlets than a much wiser man had been able to. — The Libels of Martin Marprelate are attributed to four persons named Penry, Inghemorton Uda' and Jenner (opious notices of them were found in Julius Church History Acts Athens Oxon by Dr Bliss *Collectio Ecclesiastica History Annae Typogr. Commentaries on the Laws of Moses translated from the German by Alexander Smith, D.D. Lond 1814, 8vo 4 vols. Williams, 1196 2l 8s 'The spirit of the political and ceremonial law contained in the writings of Moses, is copiously investigated in this work Valuable as these commentaries of Michaelis are in many respects, it is much to be regretted that they are not free from that licentiousness of conjecture and of language, as well as tendency to scepticism, which are the too frequent characteristics of some distinguished modern biblical critics in Germany Great caution, therefore, will be necessary in consulting this work'—Rev. MILTON, John, PARADISE LOST

FIRST 1611 EDITION. OF THE FIRST EDITION 171 LEAVES. The author's name is in italic capitals. The P. immediately follows the title page without the 7 preliminary leaves containing the arguments, list of errata etc. which were afterwards added. Some of these errata appear to have been corrected in a few sheets while they were passing through the press and probably some leaves were cancelled and reprinted. Bibl Anglo-Poet 449. Russia, 6l 5s. Hibbert, 5579 with Paradise Regained 1691, and Poems, 1615 and 1675, 4 vols. Russia 6l 10s. Dent pt n 735, with portrait of Milton by Faithorne inserted, in motto by Roger Payne. 4l. Pindley, pt n 241 with an extra title page dated 1665 original binding 3l 9s. Resold Phis 1 l. Sotheby Aug 1858, 6l 5s. Puttick July, 1860 9l 6s.

See title page (1667). In this the name JOHN MILTON is much smaller than in the preceding.

It should be observed that although this variation is placed as the second state it is just as likely to be the first as the other is evidence to the contrary. The legend stated in which is quoted to warrant this as the first title is in some instances belonging to the second, as before bounders printed out the distinctness in particular attention had been paid to them.

First title page (1668) Paradise Lost A Poem in Trx Books. The Author JOHN MILTON. Printed and sold according to Order. Lond Printed and sold by S. B. by J. T. 1668. Dec as 1 l. 10 s. 11 (8. In at the White Hart in Westminster Hall. M. Walker, under St Dunstons Church in Fleet Street and R. Boulter at the Turks Head in Bishopsgate Street. 1668 4to. In this variation there is a flourish in ornament of four lines under the author's name. Immediately after the title are prefixed, for the first time, 7 preliminary leaves containing the address of the Printer (S. Simmons) to the Reader in three lines the Arguments the Verse and Errata. Stanley, 403 with the Paradise Regained and Samson Agonistes, 1671, first edition in motto, 4l 14s 6d. Singer 1860 4l 10s.

Sixth title page (1666) Same as the fifth excepting that there are no titles on the title page and the printer's address to the reader consists of five lines instead of three. Bibl Anglo-Poet No 450 3/ 34.

Seventh title page (1669) Paradise Lost A Poem in ten Books. The Author JOHN MILTON. London. Printed by S. Simmons, and are to be sold by J. Holt, at the Angel in Little Britain 1669. Date at foot of page in centre instead of at end of previous line. Contains the address of the Printer to the Reader (in some copies the three line address in others the five line), Arguments Errata etc as before. Gambia, at Sotheby's, Jan. 1860, unbound 4l 6s.

In some copies bearing what we here distinguish as the seventh title there are three variations in the first page of Book I viz, 1 having the top line numbered 740 and with instead of in in the penultimate line. II having the top line numbered 710 but the correct word in. III The top line not numbered the penultimate line numbered 70 and the word in correct.

Eighth title page (1669) The same as before, excepting that the word Angel on the title page is in italics, and there is a comma instead of a full stop after the word Britain. It contains the 7 preliminary leaves, but without the Printer's Address to the Reader. All these leaves, as well as the last two of the poem, appear to have been reprinted. The penultimate line of the Errata has lib 2 instead of lib. 6.

Although there are so many different editions of the Missals and other ancient Service books of the Ancient English Church they but rarely occur for public sale, and therefore we are unable to quote prices. It may be taken as a general rule that they are all extremely valuable and worth many times as much as they were a few years ago. A good account of them will be found in Maskell's Monumenta Ecclesiae Anglicanae vol 1 and in [Dickinson's] Account of the Service Books Lond Masters, 1850, 8vo 3s 6d.

‘How many have thanked God for the hour that first made them acquainted with the writings of Hannah More. She did perhaps as much real good in her generation as any woman that ever held the pen. It would be idle for us to dwell here on works so well known. They have established her name as a great moral writer, possessing a masterly command over the resources of our language, and devoting a keen wit and a lively fancy to the best and noblest of purposes.’—Quarterly Review.

Horace Walpole declared that Hannah More was not only one of the cleverest of women, but one of the best. Her writings, said he, promote virtue, and their repeated editions prove their worth and utility.

This work, the Bible of the Mormons, was, there is good reason to believe, written about 1812 by a clergyman named Solomon Spaulding as a religious romance. It fell into the hands of Rigdon and Smith, who determined to palm it off as a new Revelation, and accordingly established a church at Kirtland, Ohio. The sect now numbers sufficient adherents to form a large settlement.
